The city of Padua is rich in sights of interest: cultural (museums, universities, the large old town), religious (monasteries, churches and the famous Basilica del Santo), tourism (the thermal baths of Abano and Montegrotto, the Euganean Hills with its small medieval villages like Arquà Petrarca and Montagnana which are only a few kilometers away, and finally, the sea and the pre-Alpine mountain).

The city also lies in the heart of the Veneto Region and it is placed in a strategic position to visit famous cities such as Venice (30km), Verona (60 km) and Treviso (40 km).
